(In the space provided below, please explain in detail the reasons for the delay in filing a proper reply.)

On 11/23/09 I received from you a "Maintenance Fee Reminder" which had my name and address on it, but was associated with the wrong patent by a clerical error in your office. I paid the fee with a copy of this reminder attached to the check without suspecting that such a mistake could be made. When I pay my electric bill, or water bill, I don't check the meters every time. It is the payee's responsibility to send out the proper invoice. Subsequent to this mistake, my fee was applied to the wrong patent (5,740,805).

It also turns out that the owners of this patent (5,740,805), Analogic Corp. did not want to renew this patent and they were letting it expire. I appealed this previously, but for reasons which I cannot fathom, the appeal was denied. The onus of responsibility was placed on me (for not writing the patent number on the check), when it should be on you, as the error was started in your office.

The fee should be removed from patent (5,740,805) and applied to the right patent (5,968,067).

P.S. - It is your responsibility to keep proper records, and if a mistake is made to have it corrected without penalty. I have already been penalized twice with appeal fees.

(Please attach additional sheets if additional space is needed.)
